What you get:	Full access to the course, practice and clubhouse facilities. A CONGU recognised handicap and access to all club competitions (full fee paying members will have priority in the event of over subscription). Introduction of guests at members guest rates.
What you don’t get:	You won’t be eligible for club matches, courtesies at other clubs and you won’t be eligible for election to the main committee or have voting rights at General Meetings. Silver members will be excluded from events that are held on weekend mornings.
How will it work:	You will be required to book your weekend golf in advance (through the reception), with a minimum of twenty-four hours notice. Each time you play you must register and pay your fee to play in the reception area, or if this is closed then either in the office or at the bar. We will rely to a large extent on your integrity in this regard, though spot checks will be carried out from time to time to ensure members are complying with the rules of this category. Failure to comply will result instantly in termination of your membership. For identification purposes, you will be issued with a unique bag tag, which should be clearly displayed at all times you are on the course.
